

Troy Kok for Meade County Judge/Executive

For more than four decades, Troy Kok has lived a life defined by service, discipline, and unwavering commitment to the people he leads. As a highly decorated former Major General in the United States Army, he built his career on integrity, accountability, and the belief that leadership means putting others first. Those same values have guided his first term as Meade County Judge Executive—three years marked by real results, responsible stewardship, and a clear vision for the future of our county.

Troy believes that Meade County thrives when government is transparent, fiscally responsible, and focused on strengthening the community rather than expanding bureaucracy. That is why he reduced government spending, held departments accountable, lowered taxes, and brought Fiscal Court meetings and town halls directly into every district—ensuring every citizen has a voice.

He believes in protecting what makes Meade County special while preparing it for the opportunities ahead. Under his leadership, the county revitalized the Senior Center, transformed the Animal Shelter into a respected no-kill facility, expanded recycling operations into the largest transfer station in Kentucky, secured millions in grants, and began major improvements to parks, roads, and public safety.

Troy believes that public service is a promise—one that demands honesty, hard work, and the courage to make decisions that benefit the people, not the politics. His mission is simple: keep Meade County moving forward while preserving the values, history, and community spirit that make it home.

As he seeks re-election, Troy Kok stands on a record of proven leadership and a belief that Meade County deserves a future built on strength, stability, and opportunity. He is committed to continuing the work—expanding infrastructure, securing more grants, completing the transfer of Otter Creek Park, and ensuring that growth never becomes a burden on taxpayers.

Troy has always answered the call to serve. Now he asks for your support to continue building a county we can all be proud of. Your vote—and your contribution—helps ensure that Meade County stays on the path of responsible leadership, community-driven progress, and a future worthy of the next generation.

Together, we can keep Meade County strong.

Together, we can keep moving forward.
